Terms and definitions

- Web-site is a resource placed on the Internet at <https://selvic.co.uk/>.
- User is a web-site visitor.
- Cookies are small, secure pieces of data sent by the web-site that are stored on the user's computer or mobile device. The user's web browser sends this piece of data as part of the HTTP(S) request each time he or she tries to open a page on the web-site. It enables the website to remember your actions and preferences (such as login, language, font size and other display preferences) over a period of time, so you don't have to keep re-entering them whenever you come back to the site or browse from one page to another.

How do we use cookies?

A number of our pages use cookies to:

- remember your display preferences, such as contrast colour settings or font size;
- provide with a more convenient, quick and easy access to the content of the web-site;
- maintain statistics of the web-site visits.

In addition, some videos embedded in our pages use a cookie to gather statistics anonymously on how you got there and what videos you visited.

The cookie-related information is not used to identify you personally and the pattern data is fully under our control. These cookies are not used for any purpose other than those described here.

How to disable cookies

To disable the storage of cookies on your computer or mobile device, you must use the appropriate settings menu (Settings) or its equivalent in your web browser. If you disable the storage of cookies, the site may not work as well, some of the site's features may not be available.

Attention! Third parties (e.g., providers of external analytics and marketing services used on the Site) may also use cookies. This process is not controlled by the site and its owners. The site and its owners use cookies anonymously and do not transfer them to third parties.
